

TOBIASMEIS

Tobias Meis has been studying double bass since he was tall enough to pick one up. Music continues to be his focus after completing his Bachelor of Music Performance at the University of Calgary, where he has had the opportunity to study with the principal bass of the Calgary Philharmonic Orchestra, Charles Garrett. Tobias has also studied with notable Canadian bass players John Geggie and Michelle Donato. While studying at the University of Calgary Tobias was a part of virtually all of the instrumental student ensembles including the University Orchestra, World Ensemble, Wind Ensemble and Big Band. Professionally he has performed with the Okanagan Symphony, the Symphony of the Kootenays, the Lethbridge Symphony, and the RedDeer Symphony. Tobias has been broadcast on CJSW and CBC radio, and recorded on more than a dozen studio recordings with a wide range of artists including: Morlove, Yael Wand, Corwin Fox and Miss Emily Brown. He continues to record and perform jazz, classical, bluegrass, folk, indie and world music in Alberta, BC and Ontario.
